
A Better City honors Amos Hostetter

Over 250 guests attended A Better City's awards dinner at the InterContinental Boston Hotel. honorees included Amos Hostetter, who chatted with ABC president Richard Dimino, center, developer Norman B. Leventhal. (Boston Globe photo by Bill Brett) Credit:

OCTOBER 8, 2012 6:16 PM

Amos Hostetter, the cofounder of Continental Cablevision and one of the world's wealthiest men, was among the honorees at an event hosted the other night by A Better City. Also receiving a Norman B.

Leventhal Award from ABC were former FAA administrator Jane Garvey and Larry Cancro of the Red Sox.

Ad Choices | ©2014 Boston Globe Media Partners, LLC