

An aerial photograph of a residential street where large, vibrant flower murals are being painted on the asphalt. The murals include a large pink and yellow daisy in the center, a blue and yellow flower to the right, and a row of blue flowers along the sidewalk. Several people are seen painting the murals. A white tent is set up on the left side of the street. The background shows houses and parked cars.

NEIGHBORWAYS COMMUNITY BASED PAVEMENT PAINTING

MARK CHASE

NEIGHBORWAYS DESIGN

Neighborways Mission | Misión

To help communities rapidly transform streets into safer, more beautiful places.

What We Do | Que Hacemos

Traffic Calming + Tactical Urbanism
Calmar Tráfico + Urbanismo Táctico

Community Engagement
Participación de la Comunidad

Community Art
Arte Comunitario

Placemaking + Space Activation
Activación del Espacio

Resident Designed & Implemented

2015

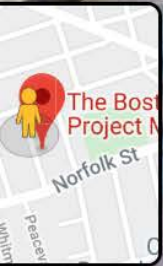

2016

2016 / paint day

Streetview 2 years later

Typical Neighborways Pilot Project Process

COST

<$10,000

- Art installation
or
- Several blocks of tactical traffic calming

TIMELINE

6 months
– 2 years

Process

- Connect + synergize with community
- Identify locations
- Design process + ongoing community engagement
- Paint day block party implementation